

SIXTY-SIX PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES

Horrible Accident on Electric Railroad at Atlantic City—Three Coaches Fell From Bridge Into Water.

(Associated Press.)
Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 28.—By the wrecking of a three-coach electric train on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad this afternoon, at least fifty passengers perished and the list may reach the appalling total of 75 when all is known.

While crossing over a drawbridge spanning the waterway known as "The Thoroughfare," which separates Atlantic City from the mainland, the train left the track and Plunged Into the Water.

The passengers in the first two coaches, with few exceptions, were drowned.

Up to midnight to-night 25 bodies had been recovered and it is believed that at least 25 and possibly more bodies are still in the submerged coaches.

The disaster is the worst that has happened since the terrible Meadowbrook wreck of July 30th, 1896. The train, made up of three heavy vestibule electric coaches, which left Camden, N. J., at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, carried probably 85 passengers, as that number of tickets are held by the conductor. It is uncertain, however, just how many passengers the train carried and until all the bodies have been Taken Out of the Submerged Coaches it will not be possible to give an approximate estimate of the dead.

While running at a speed, said to have been moderate and not unusual, the first coach left the rails and dragged down following it, over the side of a distance of fifty feet. Suddenly swerving, the first two coaches plunged over the side of the bridge into the water, twenty feet below. The third coach struck a heavy abutment, broke its couplings and for a brief time hung perilously suspended over the water. Brief as was this period, however, it gave more than a score of passengers an opportunity to escape by the rear door. Then the car slid off and

Followed the Other Two

Into the water.

It is believed everyone in the rear or third coach escaped alive, although all were more or less injured.

The accident was witnessed by many persons on shore and assistance was promptly sent from Atlantic City. Little could be done, however, towards saving the lives of those imprisoned in the submerged coaches. They quickly settled in the mud and as the tide rose they were soon hidden from sight except for the trolley poles.

Divers were sent down and Tried to Reach the Dead Bodies, but darkness set in and the tide ran too swiftly for them to accomplish much.

Late in the evening a wrecking crew arrived on the scene and with their aid and the use of a derrick, a dozen or more bodies were taken out and brought to this city. Of the twenty-five bodies about twenty have been identified, and it is believed no difficulty will be experienced in establishing the identity of the others.

General Manager W. M. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania railroad, arrived on the scene to-night and will make a thorough investigation into the cause of the accident. Until this investigation shall have been made he will make no statement.

Some of the Dead.

Among the dead are: Walter Scott, of Atlantic City, motorman; Frank Descheno, Royal Artillery band; J. P. Dempsey and wife, Camden, N. J.; Frank Monroe and wife, Camden, N. J.; Vincent Donnelly, Royal Artillery band; Pasquale Mazella, Philadelphia; P. Anguero, Royal Artillery band; Mrs. Brodie Samuel I. Field, Philadelphia; Mrs. Selma Womack, Camden, N. J.; James Egan, Atlantic City; Chas. Albertus, Norristown, Pa.; David Fried, New York; Mrs. Laura Lawrence, Philadelphia, and eight unidentified persons, including two women.

An Italian named Marco Bona was rescued from the third car but died later from his injuries.

A Camden physician whose name is not yet known, was with his wife in the first car. Both are believed to be dead.

The Injured.

Among the injured are: H. B. Joseph, Camden; Al. Reese, Scranton; John Fortunato, Philadelphia; Joseph Devito, manager of the Royal Artillery band, severely; Oreste Roy Malleo, Philadelphia; John Dougherty, Philadelphia, severely; he broke a window and escaped after being in the water; Andrew D. Taylor, Camden, severely; Geo. McGee, of Philadelphia; John Taylor, of Camden; went overboard with the car and was in a window of the bridge, where he was rescued; W. H. Stewart, Weononah, N. J.; Frank Decrel, Philadelphia; Angelo Parfetti, Philadelphia; Ed. Debia, Florence, N. J.; Edward Morgan, Scranton, Pa.; Oreste Rey, Philadelphia; H. B. Joseph, Camden; George McGee, Philadelphia. Of those injured it is believed most will die. They are suffering lost his life through his anxiety to spend a part of the day with his wife here. It was his custom to run only as far as Millville, but yesterday he swapped runs with another motorman and his terrible death was the result.

General Manager W. M. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which company owns the line on which the accident occurred is here, but has declined to make any statement with reference to the wreck. He intimated that a statement might be looked for later in the day.

P. Anguero's Safe.
Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—P. Anguero, a member of the Royal Artillery band, who is reported among the dead, is safe. He did not accompany the musicians yesterday, but loaned his coat to a member who was without a uniform. He was drowned and Anguero's cards were found in the pockets.

DARING ROBBERY IN RUSSIAN CAPITAL

MEN SECURED NEARLY TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS

Cash Has Not Been Traced—Twenty-One Persons Arrested by the Police.

(Associated Press.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—This plunder from the amazing robbery committed in this city on Saturday when a number of highwaymen got away with $100,000 from a wagon which was conveying the cash from the customs department to the state treasury, has been traced, apparently beyond recovery.

To-day the police arrested 21 persons. Among the prisoners is the driver of the cab in which rode a woman whose part it was to carry the leather bags containing the booty to safety. A man who was with this woman in the cab has been captured and identified. Three customs officers who were in charge of the vehicle conveying the cash at the time of the robbery, have been arrested.

The investigations are beginning to point towards a conspiracy in the customs service. The house porter, who was wounded in the shooting, has since died.

MAYOR SNYDER'S DEATH.

Search Parties Are Looking For Remains in White Fish Lake.

(Associated Press.)
Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 28.—A special train with twenty citizens of Port Arthur went out on the Duluth extension yesterday morning to White Fish lake to join the party there searching for the body of Mayor Snyder, of Dayton, who was drowned several days ago.

The search with grapplings and dynamite is still being continued, but with no effect so far. The hat of the drowned man was found floating, the sweat band being missing. Two diving outfits were sent out and rafts are being constructed and to-day the bottom of the lake in the vicinity of where the drowning occurred will be searched. The council of Dayton have offered $2,000 reward for the finding of the body.

TROOPS MOVING AGAINST INDIANS

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED SOLDIERS ON MARCH

It is Hoped by Display of Force to Overcome the Utes and Prevent a Fight.

(Associated Press.)

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 28.—The departure from Fort Robinson, Nebraska, yesterday of four troops of the Tenth Cavalry, makes sixteen troops of cavalry in all, a total of 765 officers and men, now en route to round up the band of renegade Ute Indians now supposed to be in camp on Powder river in Wyoming.

Colonel Jacob Angus goes with the detachment which left Fort Robinson and as senior will be in entire command of the expedition. No move will be probably made against the Utes until the forces are joined.

"It is hoped by the display of strong force to overawe the Indians and prevent a fight," said Major Noyes, military commander of the department of the Missouri. They are, however, well armed and very cunning and it is hard to say what will happen. There are about 350 Indians in the party.

Closing In On Indians.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Miner from Sheridan, Wyo., says: "Soldiers are now approaching the band of Utes from five different points and it is only a question of time until the redskins are either forced to surrender or are annihilated."

"Cavalry from Fort Keogh are approaching from the north, two more troops from Fort Meade from the northwest, two from Fort Robinson are closing in from the southeast, two from the safe fort advancing from the south, and two companies of infantry from Fort Mackenzie from the west."

DAUGHTER SAW HER MOTHER SLAIN

FATHER MURDERED HIS WIFE WITH REVOLVER

He Had Been Drinking Heavily and Expressed No Regret For His Action.

(Associated Press.)
Quebec, Oct. 28.—Sending a revolver bullet tearing through her head, George Lecoteur, aged 66 years, killed his wife on the Esplanade on Saturday morning about 10 o'clock. The murder was committed directly opposite the Garrison Club, where the victim was sitting on a bench opposite the St. Louis gate. Death was almost instantaneous. Looking coolly for a moment on the prostrate form of his wife, before the eyes of his daughter who was a witness to the murder, he said to the people who had hurried to the scene on hearing the report of the revolver shot: "Yes, I shot her and I don't deny it. I am not sorry. I am prepared to surrender."

Turning, he walked leisurely down the street and to the St. Louis hotel, where he secured a drink, and was arrested shortly after leaving the hotel. The husband and wife had not been getting along well for some time owing to the drinking habits of Lecoteur. On Friday morning he struck his wife while she was preparing breakfast, knocking her to the floor. Her screams brought assistance. Friday night Mrs. Lecoteur slept at the home of a married daughter. The husband, who had been drinking heavily during the night, returned during the night and destroyed most of his wife's belongings. Saturday he apparently started in search of her with the intention of killing her.

SIX BODIES RECOVERED FROM SUBMARINE BOAT

(Associated Press.)
Biserta, Oct. 28.—Six bodies have been recovered from the hull of the French submarine boat Lutin, which sank off this port with fourteen men on October 15th.

The indications are that five men met death instantly and that the disaster was caused by the Lutin trying to come to the surface too quickly, her stern striking the bottom, causing the rivets to start and plates to burst. Six leaks were found in her hull.

MAY VISIT ROME.

The Kaiser Believed to Be Planning a Trip to Italy.

Rome, Oct. 27.—It is believed in diplomatic circles here that Emperor William is planning a visit to the city, and that it will probably occur on the occasion of the unveiling of the bust of Wagner, which he is presenting to the city of Venice. It is asserted in this connection that the visit of the German Emperor is anxious to strengthen his personal relations with King Victor Emmanuel. These relations were somewhat weakened after the former's last visit to Rome and the German attitude at the Algeiras conference did not tend to improve them.

A NEW CREW FOR H. M. S. SHEARWATER

LIST OF OFFICERS APPOINTED TO SHIP

The Vessel, Before Re-Commissioning Next Month, Will Be Completely Overhauled.

Instructions have been issued from the admiralty for the ship Shearwater, Commander Adrian G. Allgood, to be recommissioned at Esquimalt for another term of service on the Pacific Coast, as her present commission expires on November 11th. The Shearwater was originally commissioned at Chatham on October 24th, 1901, by Commander Charles H. Umfrville, and on the expiration of her commission she was recommissioned by Commander A. T. Hunt on November 12th, 1904. It may be remembered that Commander Hunt was invalided some months ago, and on August 1st last Commander Allgood was posted to the command. During her recent cruise to Behring Sea the Shearwater was ably skippered by the second in command, Lieut. Lionel F. Maitland-Kirwan.

On recommissioning Commander Allgood has been reappointed to the Shearwater. This officer joined the Royal Navy in July, 1880, as a cadet, was appointed a midshipman in 1882, promoted sub-lieutenant in 1886, lieutenant in 1890, and commander on June 30th, 1903. Commander Allgood served as a cadet on the Agincourt during the Egyptian war, 1882 (medal and Khedive's star), was a lieutenant on the Racer during the operations of 1888-89 at Suakin, Eastern Sudan, under the present Lord Grenfell, and amongst his duties was the landing and mounting of a 64-pounder gun of the Starling in the defensive trenches, and at the action of Gemalzah he commanded the guns of the Racer (clasp to Egyptian medal). He bears the reputation of being a very smart officer, and has always been popular with his ship's company.

Amongst the new officers appointed to the ship are: Lieut. R. C. Dalglish and M. A. Bloomfield; Surgeon C. Richard and Chief Artificer Engineer D. E. McFarlane. Lieut. Oswald T. Hodgson, who has served aboard the Shearwater since she was recommissioned, has been reappointed to the ship.

Lieut. R. C. Dalglish has served on the blue for the past eleven years, having got his cadetship in July, 1890, his subsequent promotion being Surgeon-Lieutenant in 1900, and Lieutenant October, 1902.

Lieut. M. A. Bloomfield joined the service in September, 1900, and reached his present rank in June last. He recently went through the gunnery course on the Excellent at Portsmouth. The new medical officer, Surgeon C. Richard, was selected since August, 1900, and was recently employed on the Fligat at Portsmouth.

Artificer Engineer McFarlane received his warrant in 1898, and reached his present rank in 1903.

The full complement of the Shearwater is nine officers, and 113 of other ranks. The next crew will be dispatched from Portsmouth to Halifax, and thence by the C. P. R. to Victoria.

By the time the Shearwater is ready for her new commission she will be in the best trim. A contract has been awarded the B. C. Marine railway for the placing of the machinery and boilers in the hull, and in addition the decks and interior fittings will receive attention. Tenders have been called for this work, but so far the contract has not been let.

GRAND TRUNK WILL ENTER OCEAN TRADE

Company About to Order Steamers For Atlantic and Pacific—Fostering Business at Prince Rupert.

A special dispatch to the Times from Ottawa says that the Grand Trunk Company is about to place orders in England for several large cargo and passenger boats for service on the Atlantic and the Pacific.

This news, coupled with the general activity in connection with the company's affairs, tends to confirm the belief that this great corporation is to crowd work in all directions and enter into competition not only for trade on the continent of America, but also on both the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans. It has all along been felt that immediately the line of railway is completed that steamers would be required to operate out of the port of Prince Rupert to the Orient.

The G. T. P. seems determined to make Prince Rupert a great trade centre. A local navigator who has watched the progress of events prophesies that in fifteen years' time that city will be the greatest shipping centre on the Pacific Coast, and that all northern transcontinental roads will have connection with Prince Rupert in addition to the G. T. P. line.

In connection with the development of the Terminal City it is reported that the company is preparing to lend its financial and technical support to large manufacturing enterprises to be located at Prince Rupert. In this connection it is now rumored that a company is being financed to go very extensively into the fishery business in the north, and that the G. T. P. is lending every assistance to carrying it out.

P. T. Churchill, a well-known fishery man, is reported to be identified with this scheme, and Prince Rupert is to be made the headquarters for the handling of the trade. A cannery on Prince of Wales Island, under the control of Mr. Churchill, is to be included in the project, and large additions will be made to it. The cannery is only about four hours steaming from Prince Rupert. It may be made the centre for deep sea fishing, being within easy reach of the many fishing grounds in the north. Halibut, salmon, cod and all other lines of fishing are said to be in view, and the means of shipping will be by the G. T. P. E. G. Russell, the local representative of the G. T. P., was asked to confirm this report concerning the fishery company, but no confirmation would be given by him.

There can be no question that the northern fishing grounds will find the outlet for their cured fish over the G. T. P. line, the terminus of which is so much nearer the grounds than any part in the south.

It is further reported that the New England Fish Company, which now operates out of Vancouver, have made all arrangements for securing a site near the city of Prince Rupert, and will transfer its business to the north as soon as the G. T. P. is completed. There would be a decided advantage in saving time by this Prince Rupert being only twelve hours' sailing from the halibut fishing grounds off Queen Charlotte Islands.

An excellent clay has been found adjacent to Prince Rupert, and there is said to be a company projected to erect works for the manufacture of pressed brick. But in addition to all these other industries calculated to employ large forces of men are being investigated, and Prince Rupert will possibly become, at a very early period in its history, a great manufacturing centre as well as a shipping port.

Relative to the surveys for the main line across the province of British Columbia, it is reported that routes have been found which will give lower grades for long distances than are obtained even on sections of the prairie. The grade will be an exceptionally low one, so that the company will be in a position to handle a large trade with ease.

While the pass through the Rockies has not been finally decided upon, it is generally believed that it will be by way of the Yellow Head pass. "There is no doubt in my mind," said a man who returned from Yellow Head a few days ago, "that the Grand Trunk Pacific has the best railway pass in the mountains. I have crossed the mountains on every track between here and Mexico, and I say positively that nothing like as favorable a pass has yet been found anywhere else. The Yellow Head is like a park drive compared with the most of them, and there is no more climbing than plenty of roads have to do right out on the prairie. In fact I know for an absolute certainty that nowhere between Edmonton and Fort George will the grade exceed one per cent. There is one stretch on this side of Tete Jaune Cache where for eighteen miles a one per cent. grade will be necessary. There is also another piece of two and three miles just on the other side of the divide between that and Bear Lake, where the grade is as steep as it is now officially known, where it goes the merest fraction over one per cent. Climbing up the pass from this side is a snap. The heaviest grade anywhere is along the Miette towards its headwaters where for a piece the grade will go eighty-five one hundredth of one per cent; but in mountain railroading these grades are so low as to be unrepresented."

Continued the speaker, "that the G. T. P. survey's will be pretty well completed before the gangs come in this fall. On this side and over as far as Tete Jaune Cache the surveyors are well along in fact most of them will be about wound up now. On the other side, however, in low Tete Jaune there is considerable to be done yet. The surveyors over there had a pretty bad time, the Rolston party which was made up in Victoria and came in via Kamloops took forty-seven days to connect with the commissary department from this end, and the boys came within an odd shoe or two of starving to death. The Rolston party was supposed to do the work between the end of the Featherstonhaugh division at Tete Jaune and the Little Smokey. "Another outfit which came in from the coast via Kamloops was to do the Little Smokey. Fort George, section, but when they reached the scene of operations at Little Smokey they found that the cache in which their grub was stored had been destroyed by forest fires, and they had to get out as quickly as they knew how. This left the Rolston party the only one working between Tete Jaune Cache and the junction of the Nicola and Fraser at Fort George, and they are doing everything that endurance can accomplish to get the gap closed up before the winter sets in. Beyond Fort George the string of survey camps is complete right through to the Pacific Coast."

CHINESE GAMBLING DEN RAIDED BY POLICE

Chief Langley and Squad of Men Round Up Nineteen Celestials—Heavy Fines Imposed.

About ten o'clock last evening nineteen Chinamen were enjoying a game of fan-tan at 21 Piquard street, when from the outside of the locked doors there came a thunderous request to "Open in the King's name." The opening business was not conducted quick enough for the liking of the police and in a few minutes the house door was knocked off its hinges to admit Chief Langley and a squad of men. Another door had in the meantime been fastened up, but it soon yielded to the gamblers and their belongings were in the hands of the officers.

As a result of this smartly conducted and singularly successful raid the nineteen Celestials were lined up to the police court this morning and charged with gambling. There were not a few smiles to be noticed among those present as the list of names was read out. It sounded very much like a dinner-gong progressing rather noisily down a flight of stairs. Every one of the prisoners pleaded guilty and a fine of $25.00 in each case was imposed, the police confiscating the gaming outfit, the chairs which had been broken down, six chairs, and $23.15 which they had taken charge of. Many friends of the prisoners were in court, and within ten minutes every fine was paid.

Three men were charged with being drunk and disorderly and fines ranging from $2.50 to $6 were imposed.

MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS.
Now in Progress in This City—Council Will Meet at End of Week.

The examinations of doctors under the British Columbia Medical Council opened this morning in the parliament buildings. There are about twenty-four candidates who have taken their courses at various medical colleges of the world writing on their final examination preparatory to practicing in British Columbia.

On Thursday the members of the council will be in the city to examine the papers submitted by the candidates and decide the fate of the latter.

The council consists of president, Dr. R. E. McKechnie, Vancouver; vice-president, Dr. Walker, New Westminster; treasurer, Dr. W. J. McGuigan, Vancouver; secretary, Dr. Fagan, Victoria; and Doctors Proctor, Vancouver, Davis and Jones of this city.

It is more than likely that at the meeting of the Medical Council the question of reinstating Dr. Robert Telford, of Vancouver, will come up. It came up at the May sitting and Dr. Telford made a personal appearance and presented his case before the council. No action was taken at the meeting. It is quite likely that the matter may come up again this week.

TWO MEN BURNED TO DEATH AT CHILLIWACK

Were on Spree and Are Believed to Have Started Fire in Court House When Locked Up.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Oct. 29.—Two prisoners were roasted to death in flames of their own making in a fire which destroyed Chilliwack court house on Saturday night.

The two men who died were well known, being Daniel McKenzie, proprietor of the Dominion hotel, of Chilliwack, and K. C. Cousins.

They had been on a spree and were arrested by Constable Carlick. They were searched and after placing them in the cell the constable went up town to arrest two other men who were making a disturbance.

Two hours later, about nine o'clock, a passer-by noticed flames coming from the court house, but the building was locked securely and it was impossible to get help to the two men inside. The man, who heard the screams of the prisoners, ran down town and spread the news of the fire.

When the brigade arrived it was too late, and the prisoners probably had already been suffocated.

Later, when the door was broken open, the blackened corpses of the men were found in the cell.

It is altogether probable that the prisoners started the fire themselves. They made a drunken boast that they would burn the court house down, and several people have come forward and declared they passed the building, but all say they refused to supply them. The arresting officer is certain they had no one left and someone must have innocently supplied the matches.

People are unanimous in exonerating the policeman from blame, as he was out on the performance of his duty. He is jailer as well as the municipal, and is blamed for not providing two officials.

McKenzie leaves a wife and two daughters. Cousins was single.

INQUEST ON WRECK VICTIM

Verdict of Jury Says That Cook of Skagit Met Death From Unknown Cause.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, held an inquest on Saturday afternoon on the body of the cook of the brigantine Skagit, whose name is not known. The remains were identified by Chief Officer Langkow and L. Schloser, A. B., the seaman who was steering at the time of the disaster. There was a sharp cut near the left temple, and a juror raised the question of foul play, but no evidence to support such a suggestion was forthcoming.

Chief Officer Langkow and Schloser described the loss of the barkentine, giving the same account as that which has been previously published. They told of the cook's refusal to leave the vessel and their efforts to induce him, and Schloser declared that the man seemed to be crazy.

The jury returned a verdict, after ten minutes consideration, that the deceased came to his death from an unknown cause.

The survivors of the wreck left on Saturday night on the Indianapolis for Port Townsend.

IMPROVEMENTS TO VICTORIA'S PARK

PROPOSAL OUTLINED

BY THE COMMITTEE

Scheme to Raise Funds for Contemplated Improvements and Extensions Without Further Taxation.

Members of the park committee of the city council, particularly its chairman, Ald. Douglas, have been occupied during the past few weeks in devising some scheme by which the alterations and extensions to Beacon Hill park can be carried out without additional burden to the ratepayers. As outlined previously by the Times, the opinion of the chairman is that the present site of the "Zoo" should be changed from where it is now to some point in the neighborhood of the bear pits. There, he claims, more room is available for the buildings, while the environment is more suitable. The bears could be given more and better accommodation, an eagle's aviary could be constructed which would give those birds more freedom than they now enjoy, thus complying with the wishes of those citizens who have lifted their voices in behalf of the birds, and a modern seals' pond could be built. There are a few of the plans Ald. Douglas has in mind in connection with the new "Zoo."

But the programme as outlined does not stop at providing better quarters for specimens of animal life peculiar to British Columbia. It includes the construction of gardens in the vicinity of the site, and, in short, the converting of that portion of the park into an artistically beautiful spot as can be found anywhere on the coast. The intention also is to lay the grounds where the "Zoo" is located at present out in plots of neatly mown grass and a few trees. This will make the whole of that area in the neighborhood of the lakes one large and exceedingly attractive garden, a place where Victorians or visitors may idle away a spring, summer or autumn day amid the most delightful surroundings. To do all this, of course, as requested by Ald. Douglas, the committee that the funds necessary should be raised without taxing the property owners. Therefore, he has submitted a proposition which, doubtless, will be approved by the council at its next meeting. It is fully explained in a communication it is intended to forward to the provincial government and which follows:

October 26th, 1906.

The Honorable the Provincial Secretary, Victoria, B. C.

Sir—We are instructed, on behalf of the corporation of this city, to address the members of the executive council of the government upon a suggestion which has been made to the park committee of the council with a view of obtaining from the executive their consent to introduce in the measure in the course of authorizing the release from park trusts of a portion of Beacon Hill park, should the ratepayers of the city of Victoria, by-law submitted for their approval, ratify the suggestion.

We are directed to explain that there is a public demand for zoological buildings for the more effective and convenient preservation of the specimens of animals and birds owned by the city, and now very undecorably kept in inconspicuous buildings in Beacon Hill park, and the committee have elaborated plans of the desired improvements which necessitate an outlay of approaching $10,000.

The municipal council have no funds to place at the disposal of the park committee, and if the improvement is to be carried out it will involve an appeal to the ratepayers to sanction a loan and consequent increase of the city taxes.

Having regard to the burdens already placed upon the taxpayers and the imminent increase for an improved waterworks system, it is felt that an appeal to the taxpayers for even so small a sum as $10,000 at the present moment is undesirable, and as the improvement is urgently needed, the alternative may be the abandonment of keeping zoological specimens.

The park committee have instructed us to make an appeal to the government for their favorable consideration of the following proposal, provided it is endorsed by the ratepayers:

Along the northern boundary of the Beacon Hill park, at its western extremity, fronting the South Park school, there is a strip of rocky park land which has never been within the means of the corporation to improve or utilize; the cost of laying out and improving the same being prohibitive, having regard to the state of city finances. The position of this land would render the same not only suitable, but possibly valuable as a building site; the suggestion is that this land, fronting along Katherine street (now Douglas street) from the southwestern extremity to the intersection of Toronto street to a depth of 120 feet, be released from park trusts and placed at the disposal of the corporation for sale or leasing as building sites.

It would be within the power, and doubtless the desire, of the corporation to make building restrictions upon sale, both as to architectural design and cost of the building and the laying out of gardens, or to grant building leases on terms, with a view to do away with the present unsightly appearance, and enable erections and gardens of artistic design and effect to be made, embellishing the approach to the public park.

A calculation has been made, and after due allowance for necessary park roads and reserving the South Park school ample recreation ground for the school's use, some twelve lots of an approximate frontage of 50 feet, with a depth of 120 feet, would be at the disposal of the corporation, and should realize, on the estimate of the city assessor, the sum desired to carry out the necessary park improvements, as well as other park improvements in the shape of conveniences for public use, seats and approaches to the sea shore, the want of which have long been felt.

We are desirous to say that the suggestion is one which in no case will be advanced save under the express understanding that the taxpayers, in the usual way, evidence their preference to provide in this mode for the improvements desired, rather than make an addition to the city debt, and we are desirous to ask whether an assurance can be given that, if the opinion of the ratepayers is favorably expressed, the government will promise to introduce a measure to the effect, similar to that contained in the proposal contained in this letter.

We have the honor to be, Sir, Your obedient servants.

MASON & MANN.

At the regular meeting of the city council this evening the park committee will submit the following report:

Your park committee beg to make the following recommendations:

That the provincial government be waited upon and requested to bring in the necessary legislation to obtain the release of the northern strip, at its western extremity of Beacon Hill park from the park trusts, with a view of enabling the city to sell or lease the same, and thereby raise a fund sufficient to provide proper accommodations for the various zoological specimens now owned by the city, the said improvements, if allowed, to be carried by the council with the government's endorsement concerning the park lands and trusts, the improvements to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

You committee further recommend that if the council approves of this recommendation your honorable body send a deputation to wait upon the government concerning this matter.

CANADIAN LABOR PARTY.

Convention in Progress at Vancouver To-Day to Launch the New Organization.

The Canadian Labor Party will be formally launched in this province to-day at Vancouver by a convention called by George E. Gray, of Victoria, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada for British Columbia. It will be remembered that the congress, at the annual convention held last month in this city, decided to enter politics as a separate organization with the intention of securing further labor representation in the parliament, and municipal bodies of the Dominion.

Among the representatives from this city at the convention are Geo. F. Gray, president of the Trades and Labor Council; J. Chow, of the Typographical Union; H. Norman, of the Street Railwaymen; W. Gabriel, of the Bootmakers; J. G. Waters, of the Heliographers; Hejers, and Frank Slavin of the Laborers Protective Union.

A special dispatch to the Times from Vancouver says: "Ald. Williams was to-day elected president of the labor convention, Wm. Davidson, M. P. P., vice-president, and A. G. Perry, Vancouver, secretary. The credentials committee allowed 47 delegates. Three-quarters of them are from the coast. President Williams in his opening address appealed to the convention for support for the organizing and consolidating of a great labor party that would dominate Canada and British Columbia as they should be dominated. Mr. McVety, president of the Vancouver Trades Council, will this afternoon give an address. Trouble is looked for between the Socialists and straight labor men."

CAPTAIN OF KESTREL TO BE DISMISSED

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—It is reported to-day that Capt. Newcombe, of the Kestrel, is to be dismissed, and that Capt. Wainman will take his place temporarily.

This is the outcome of the inquiry made some time ago by Mr. Roy, of the department of marine, into the purchase of supplies for the Kestrel. At the session of parliament G. E. Foster called attention to the high prices per head which the Kestrel's supplies cost the Dominion. An inquiry followed at Vancouver, and after explanations from the captain it is said that the dismissal was decided upon. The department has no information to give on the subject. The one to be advised will be the captain, and that will take some days.

The sealing schooner Victoria arrived in port on Sunday with 350 skins, as previously reported from the West Coast. To-day the Zillah May, with 208 skins, arrived. She likewise was reported from the West Coast, where she called to land Indian crews.

Dr. Milne has laid an information against the captain and charterer of the Sulan Maru, the Japanese schooner from which immigrants surreptitiously landed at Beecher Bay, charging them with contravention of the immigration laws. The case will come up in the police court to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

A message was received here to-day announcing the death of W. K. Leighton, of Nanaimo. The deceased was well known in Victoria. Some months ago he was stricken by a paralytic stroke, and although his condition improved somewhat his recovery was only temporary. His death took place this morning at the home of his brother, James Leighton, Glenboro, Savanah. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. R. B. McMicking of this city.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE

A CASE OF NEGLECTING A WEAK HEART AND TIRED NERVES.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

SYMPTOMS OF WEAK HEART. Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Dizziness, Stinking Feeling, Heart Pains, Short Breath, Weakness.

M. Beattie says: "I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness."

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations."

"Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great restorer."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

SIXTY MILLION GALLONS OF WATER DAILY

Record of Amount Now Passing Through Main Weir in the Highland District.

According to the official returns of the city engineer, an average volume of sixty million gallons of water is passing over the main weir in the Highland district every twenty-four hours.

During the rainy spell last week as much as seventy-four million gallons a day passed over the weir, and in order to record this amount of water, the height of the weir had to be increased considerably. In addition to the capacity of the weir the city engineer made provision for extremely wet weather and knowstoms, and calculates that the gauge will now record any amount of water that is likely to pass over it.

MAN AND HIS DRESS.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, a London Lady of Wide Renown, Discusses the Modern Man's Dress.

In an article on Men's Dress, Mrs. Bessie O'Connor, wife of T. P. O'Connor, M. P., says that "Some men are vain enough to imagine that neither men nor women pay any attention to the clothes of a man. There never was a greater mistake than this. Surely women, who are constantly studying the cut, the lines and the fashion of their own clothes, necessarily observe the cut and the fashion of men's habiliments."

It was rather the custom of man to associate the idea of a well-dressed man with an empty fog. She forcibly writes, "but the modern man has an eye for beauty and appropriateness of attire, combined with great cleverness in other directions."

The Semi-ready idea in men's dress permits the wearer to wear a suit as it will look when he wears it. He dons it at the Semi-ready Wardrobe just as it stands ready to finish up. Tailored superbly, designed in a smart and cultured style, the fabrics are the best from England's mills. The modern man knows that misfits and cheap materials are not economical for one's success in both social and business life depends upon good tailoring. There is a Semi-ready tailoring shop in nearly all the chief towns of Canada.

B. Williams & Co. are giving up ready-made clothing and recommending semi-ready tailoring to every one.

Leo Lefebvre, of the Geographical Society of France, who is here taking a number of cinematograph and other views, has taken several pictures of the Gorge.

A special sitting of the full court will probably be arranged for hearing the appeal of the city of Victoria against the Esquimalt Water Works Company. The regular session opens in Vancouver on November 4th, but it is thought that the expense of going to the Terminal City can be saved by arranging for hearing the arguments in Victoria.

The steam collier, Wellington, was hauled out on the ways of the Victoria Machinery Depot this afternoon. She will be cleaned and painted. The Wellington is the largest vessel that has ever been put on the ways of the Victoria Machinery Depot, being 3,000 tons dead weight.

WHEN YOUR BACK HURTS.

Of course it's hard to work. Stopping over hurts, lifting is tedious, and you wonder what to do. Ever try Nerviline? Nothing like it for weak or lame back. It penetrates to the core of the pain, eases from the first application, brings cure that defies a relapse. No tintment is so clean, so soothing, so certain to kill muscular rheumatic or sciatic pains. Your dealer sells Polson's Nerviline in large 25c. bottles. Why not try it?

BONUS FOR EMPLOYEES.

British Columbia Electric Railway Company Announce a Dividend Under Their Co-operative System of $45.

In pursuance of the policy adopted by the company of recent years, every employee of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company will receive a bonus of $45 upon next pay day. The directors of the concern allot to the co-operative system each year one-third of the company's net earnings, after a four per cent. dividend has been paid out to the shareholders, and in a communication received at the Vancouver office, it is announced that this year $20,000 is available for distribution among the employees.

The number of men employed is between 400 and 450, and the bonus to be received by each of them is $45, which is five dollars in excess of the bonus paid last year. The increase is due to an advance in the business done by the company during the past year. Every employee who has been in the continuous employ of the company since July 1st, 1905, is entitled to share in the benefits of this co-operative scheme, and all complying with this requirement will receive the previously mentioned sum.

BUYING MOUNTS FOR BRITISH ARMY

COL. LESSARD SHIPS
HORSES FROM CALGARY

Proposed Introduction of Registration System—Man Killed by Explosion of Acetylene Gas.

Calgary, Oct. 26.—Col. F. L. Lessard, who has spent the past month in this neighborhood buying remount horses, shipped fifty-six head of very superior animals this week to Toronto for use of the Royal Dragoons. The horses were purchased at about $130 each.
Col. Lessard, acting for the British war office, is consulting ranchers here in regard to the adoption of the registration system such as obtains in Great Britain, under which horse owners agree in return for an annual payment of ten shillings per head, to hold a specified number of horses at the disposal of the government, to be delivered in case of emergency. The price to be offered ranchers in Alberta is understood to be $1.50 per head.

Gave Himself Up.
Montreal, Oct. 27.—Alex. Duclos, who is wanted to answer to a charge of attempting to murder Alfonso DesRosiers, an insurance agent, and who escaped from the Long Point asylum for the insane three months ago, gave himself up to Dr. Villeneuve, medical superintendent of the asylum, yesterday.

F. Thomas, of Toronto, has been appointed editor of the Congregationalist nation of Rev. W. E. Gilroy to accept gregational church. Mr. Thomas will enter upon his duties immediately.

Search for Treasure.
Halifax, Oct. 26.—Three divers in search of treasure are at work endeavoring to locate the wreck of the steamer of the Daniel Steinhilber, which was lost off Samborport in April, 1884. The cargo aboard the steamer, only part of which was ever recovered, was most valuable.
It included cutlery, glassware, tinware and other valuable goods. The wreck was attended with heavy loss of life.

Instantly Killed.
Quebec, Oct. 26.—Mr. Sam. K. Shaw, of the hardware firm of S. J. Shaw & Co., of this city, was accidentally killed at Beauport yesterday. He had gone to the lake to bring his family back to town, and was in the act of cleaning an acetylene gas apparatus when an explosion occurred, killing him instantly.

district superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Ottawa, died this morning after a protracted illness.

Curfew Bill Proposed.
Montreal, Oct. 26.—At Thursday's meeting of the legislative committee of the council proposals were made for the adoption of the curfew bill and also the reduction of the number of aldermen and the removal of the property tax qualification for aldermen. In proposing the adoption of a curfew bill Ald. Dargatzis presented a bill and argued in its favor. He said that the care in the rear of children is a great evil, and that it is often allowed to make the streets a scene of horror and shouts, that they destroyed property, especially in public parks, and that they frequently polluted the streets with poisonous air, and generally acquired a bad kind of education when they ought to be home in bed.

WAGES OF SWITCHMEN.
Railway Companies Repeat Offer of Increase of Two Cents an Hour.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The railroads today informed Grand Master Hawley of the Switchmen's Union, that their demands for an eight-hour day and an increase in wages would be refused.
The offer of an increase of two cents an hour was repeated, but the men were told that this would be all they could obtain. The refusal of the demands of the switchmen was also made to apply to all other employees who have of ficially presented demands for shorter hours or increased wages.

It was made clear in the reply to the switchmen that the requests of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to which a reply was asked by November 1st, will be refused.
Grand Master Hawley has called a meeting of the switchmen for to-morrow, but there will be no strike action taken until there has been a referendum vote.

SECTARIAN APPEALS.
Made in Quebec During the Recent Bye-Election.

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, speaking at Warton for Mr.
Tomin, said in reference to the Quebec county election that the fire of sectarian strife had been lighted on the ground that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was too British for his political opponents in that province. Those who exulted over the victory were digging the grave of British institutions and setting province against province the same as fifty years ago.

VENTURE A SUCCESS.

Burlington, Va., Oct. 27.—The Inland Seamen's Union, which has been in competition with the regular transportation companies on Lake Champlain during the past season, has met with such success that a 5 per cent.
dividend will be declared and a new tug will be added to its fleet next year.
The union was organized because of alleged excessive rates charged by transportation companies for towing cannots between New York and Canadian points.

KAISER AND PRESIDENT.

Emperor William's Tribute—Refers to Friendship Between Germany and States.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—Prof. John W. Burgess, dean of Columbia University,
New York, the first incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and institutions at the University of Berlin, began his lectures to-day. Emperor William, the Empress and Prince August Wilhelm attended.

Professor Burgess read a letter from President Roosevelt conveying to the University of Berlin the heartfelt good will and referring to "The historical friendship between Prussia and the United States and then after Prussia had founded the German empire, between this mighty empire and the United States which has never been broken nor even shaken in the least."

Professor Burgess made a short address in German and the rector of the University, Prof. Kaftan, referred appropriately by accepting the offered message to the university and the Emperor's presence and proposed three cheers for the Emperor.

While the cheering was still in progress, His Majesty rose and said:
"Fellow students, let us express our thanks for what has been expressed so eloquently by accepting the offered hand which has been extended to us by America and by giving a cheer for the man who is the incarnation of the good qualities of his people, President Roosevelt. Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!"

The members of the Emperor's suite, the professors and the students responded vigorously. The Emperor then congratulated Prof. Burgess on the successful beginning of his work and requested United States Ambassador Tower to cable to President Roosevelt
His Majesty's thanks for the president's co-operation.

FORMER PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

W. M. Dicken Answers Statement Issued by Press Committee of Feminine Union.

Feminine B. C. Oct. 25.—W. M. Dicken, former president of the local union, has issued the following answer to the statement issued by the press committee of the union to-day.

"Dear sir:—I notice a report put in by the press committee of the Feminine Miners' Union, dealing with certain charges made by me. First let me say that that committee did not deal with any charges that I had made, but the charge made by President Shaw, of changing me with breaking my obligations as a member of the U. M. W. of America. Therefore, if your readers read the findings of that committee, they will not find any false charges made. I was never questioned upon any false charge made in my letter, but only to answer the charge made against me, and I challenge any committee or committee, to prove that I made any false statements and to take a ballot of the whole of the miners employed at Coal Creek, whether there was anything false in my letter or not. The only thing they have against me in reference to my action is putting it in the press and I question if it is constitutional or not in suspending me at all.
At the meeting when the charge was made against me, the truth of my statements was never questioned, as the majority of men present know that they were correct. The report never mentions anything that is false, nor where I have broken any obligations and if they desire to repeat what I have already said, let them do so in the truth of my letter as a whole and not in part."

UNREST IN MOROCCO.

Agitation Against Foreigners—Sultan's
Forces Gain a Victory.

Melilla, Morocco, Oct. 27.—The Sultan's forces have been victorious in a skirmish on the borders of Mullaia. A strong agitation against foreigners is stated to be in progress in Morocco city.

Authorities Take Action.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The French government has been advised that the Moroccan authorities, as the result of the energetic representations made by the French officials at Morocco city, have agreed to send aid to Southern Morocco for the purpose of calling in the fanatical tribes there and persuading them to abandon their project of declaring a Holy war after the Ramadan festival. No change is reported in the situation of affairs in the northern part of Morocco.

To Rescue Spaniards.

Cadix, Oct. 27.—The Spanish cruiser Donna Maria De Molina left here for Alzila, Morocco, to-day to take on board the Spanish subject there, whose lives are endangered as a result of the occupation of that town by insurgent tribesmen.

AUTOMOBILE RACES.

Another Record Broken—Man Hurled
Over Fence.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 27.—A. J. Koehler, in a 22-horse power machine won the 100 mile automobile race at the Empire city track to-day in 2 hours, 5 minutes and 35 1/2 seconds.
Tom Cooper, setting a pace of nearly a mile a minute, had the rear axle of his car broken. His mechanic, Frank Ivry, was sent spinning over the fence beside the track. The car was put out of commission. Cooper was not hurt but the mechanic was sent to a hospital suffering from a broken collar bone.

Cedric in a 20-horse power car.

Cedric, in a 20-horse power car, broke the world's mile record in the third mile of the five mile race open only to foreign cars, one of the minor events of the day. On the third lap he covered the mile in 55 2-5 seconds, breaking the track record of 59 seconds for medium weight cars and also the world's record of 58 4-5 seconds.

WELCOMES NEW MINISTER.

Paris, Oct. 27.—When President Pal-lieres received the members of the cabinet shortly after its formation, he made the following statement to M. Viviani, the minister of labor: "No doctrine, no reform, no matter how bold, frightens me. The government as constituted must march at the head of the democracy.
Consequently I look with pleasure on the creation of the ministry of labor. In the present state of the economic evolution in France, a ministry is absolutely necessary."

PATRIOTIC BOMBAST.

We believe the fact is set down somewhere in contrasting black and white that patriotism is the last refuge of a certain class of persons. It will have been noticed that at the first political meeting of the provincial election campaign held the other evening at A. O. U. W. hall Premier McBride and several of his more prominent supporters waved the old flag with a great deal of energy. The sentiments expressed were flamboyantly loyal and patriotic. "We must approach this question as loyal Britishers," says the Premier. Why was it necessary to introduce such a sentence as that in a speech explaining what had been done at the inter-provincial conference at Ottawa? Does Premier McBride think that there is any danger of the people of British Columbia losing their heads or their senses over this movement for better terms of which he has apparently deceived himself into the belief, or perhaps trying to delude the public into the belief, that he is the leader? Is he fearful lest there may be an insurrection against the authority of the Dominion and that a cry may go up for "better terms or separation?" As a matter of fact Premier McBride is giving but little attention to any of what he considers the side issues which have arisen out of the conference of the provincial premiers. He had one object in view when he went to Ottawa. We pointed out when he was on his way that he had gone to raise a political issue. His course all along indicated with absolute exactness what he was striving for. He played according to programme in the East, and when he came back West he proceeded to the second act of the farce. We shall have the curtain rising on the final act one of these fine days when the country is least expecting it, and a strong attempt will be made to cover up all the nasty details of the McBride administration's career under the old flag.

We have said that the Premier's address on his return from the conference at Ottawa was essentially that of a demagogue. It was a sinister appeal to sectional prejudice, and while we do not believe for a moment that the people of British Columbia can be incited to hostility against their neighbors in the East by the utterances of a shallow politician whose goal is office at any price—to whom indeed office is essential—the man who is so utterly lost to all sense of patriotism in his true sense as to insinuate that British Columbia has been wronged by the federal powers, who asserts that justice has been denied her, and that we must appeal to the Mother Land to have the crooked things set straight, is a dangerous character, should be regarded as such and treated accordingly by true patriots.

When Premier McBride, or any of his sincere supporters, talks of appealing the case of British Columbia to the foot of the Throne he knows he is speaking with the mouth of a demagogue. He has no intention of taking an appeal to any other tribunal than the people of British Columbia, whom he hopes to deceive by hysterical rantings about patriotism and by bombastic references to the old flag. If he were to go to Westminster he would be referred inconspicuously to Ottawa. If by a stretch of the imagination the Colonial Secretary can be conceived as asking for particulars as to the provisions of the terms of union have been broken, what reply could the provincial delegate make? Would he not be compelled to acknowledge that the provision of the terms of union have been interpreted liberally? If he were honest and candid would not sincerity force him to admit that a portion of the customs duties—the head tax on Chinese—of which British Columbia had no legal claim, had been turned over to the provincial treasury? Is it conceivable that any Premier would seriously think of going to the "foot of the throne" with such a case, even if the Mother Country, the "fountain of justice" to the peculiar type of patriots who flourish exceedingly in this province under the aegis of McBrideism, were in the habit of interfering in the domestic affairs of self-governing portions of the Empire such as Canada. Suppose there were to be a change of government at Ottawa at any time during the career of the McBride government, what chance would there be of this province receiving more sympathetic consideration from a Conservative government than it has received from the assembled provincial premiers and the present Liberal administration? We are told by leading Conservative journals that Premier Whitney of Ontario, a Conservative, was the most prominent figure in every respect at that conference. He is the right-hand man of Mr. Burdon, Ontario is the hope of Toryism. It is the one province in which the ancient but somewhat decayed political faith has particular status at the present stage of the political history of the world. It was Premier Whitney who practically held that to talk of arbitration was absurd and who moved the resolution calling for the payment of an extra million dollars to British Columbia in recognition of the peculiar circumstances of her case. Doubtless Mr. Whitney thought his proposition was a very handsome one, or he would scarcely have used the expression he did regarding Mr. McBride. We know indeed that the representatives of the other provinces all thought they were acting in an exceedingly generous spirit towards us. We take a different view here, naturally. And yet we must not forget that we are partners in the confederation compact; that our voice is but one in nine. In spite of the airy manner in which any references to the sentiments of the other provinces are waved aside by speakers and writers who are under no more responsibility, comparatively, than the insects of a day, the attitude of the East must be taken into consideration. No public man will assume the responsibility of raising feelings of antagonism in the portions of the Dominion which are still politically dominant.

Therefore, as an appeal to the foot of the throne and this waving of the old flag are all bunkum, as Mr. McBride has himself acknowledged, as Mr. Finance Minister Fielding actually did offer better terms than the million dollar proposal of Premier Whitney, as the offer of the Finance Minister was not an ultimatum, we hold that our representative should not have gone sailing into his tent and refused to discuss the matter further. He should have listened to all Mr. Fielding had to say—and this he would have done had he not been alarmed, lest peradventure he might have been forced to abandon the cry that had been determined upon before he left for Ottawa—the appeal that it is hoped will divert attention from the various unsavory transactions which have brought contempt upon British Columbia during the past three years.

There was an eminently respectable company of politicians on the platform behind Premier McBride on Friday night. We know that under the circumstances in which the Conservative party of British Columbia finds itself at the present time, and in view of the peculiar composition of the cabinet, it is no easy matter to put the sheep on the right hand and the goats where they ought to be. But as adventures of the most dangerous class were permitted to invade the platform and to address the audience, why was not the "trout ensemble" rendered complete? Two of the principal of the Kaituma island adventures are always at hand and proud to pose in prominent places. Why were they not also given places upon the platform? They would have made the picture most pleasing and appropriate from a front point of view. Then there would have been three of a kind, to draw to (or whatever the correct technical expression may be). Or, better still, the virtuous and patriotic triumvirate might have been induced to pose under the Union Jack, with a luminous legend in the background, "the old flag and an appropriation!"

The Grand Trunk people are going in for transportation by sea as well as by land. And they are going to enjoy the important advantage of having everything new and thoroughly up-to-date. That will put them at once on a level with the strongest of their competitors on the two oceans. But there will be enough trade doing for all, and some to spare. We Canadians think we have been making fairly satisfactory progress for the past half dozen years—we haven't got properly underway yet.

We think we can see a goodly collection of ambitious brains laying wires to secure nominations for this constituency in the interests of the Conservative party. We refrain from mentioning names for fear of engendering strife that might be disastrous. But the names of those who occupied places on the platform have been published. Choose your men, and do not forget to put on your list the name of the adventurer who flourishes on the bounty of other adventurers not quite so brazen and unscrupulous as he.

SAILORS AGAIN REMANDED.

Seamen From Barque Don Charged With Embezzling Cargo—Case To Be Resumed To-morrow.

Five sailors of the barque Don again appeared in the police court to-day, having been remanded from Saturday last on a charge of neglect of duty. Capt. Roach and his solicitor were present and another charge was laid against them, that of embezzling part of the ship's cargo to the amount of $300.

Magistrate Hall pointed out that the nature of the latter charge necessitated some explanation. It could be laid under the Merchants' Shipping Act, in which case it would come within his jurisdiction, or it could be dealt with under the criminal code, which would mean that, providing the evidence submitted was strong enough to warrant the prisoners being committed for trial, the case would go to the assizes. In the first case the maximum penalty was twelve weeks' imprisonment, but in the latter it was seven years.

Counsel for the prosecution intimated that he desired the case to be dealt with under the act, and Capt. Roach, master of the Don, gave evidence in regard to the broaching of the vessel's cargo.

Upon the completion of the captain's evidence Magistrate Hall adjourned the case until to-morrow, when the evidence of the mate will most likely be taken.

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MISS SCHWALM'S LETTER

In All Parts of Canada Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Miss C. E. Schwalm

The present Mrs. Pinkham has for twenty-five years made a study of the ills of her sex, and she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Miss Annie E. Schwalm, of 326 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a specific for female weakness with which I have been troubled for years. I also had irregular and painful periods which affected my general health until last spring. I was only a wreck of my former self. In my affliction I was advised to use your Compound, and am so glad that I did so. I found that in a few short months there was no trace of female weakness, my strength gradually returned, and in a very short time I considered myself a perfectly well woman. I appreciate my good health, and beg to assure you that I am most grateful to you for discovering such a wonderful remedy for suffering women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

Shipping

A correspondent of the Times at Quatsno, reports that some white pointed iceberg has drifted into Forward Inlet. There is only a limited amount of it, but there is sufficient to denote that it came from some sailing vessel.

A copper life buoy was also picked up by Indians at Raft cave. It was elliptical in shape, with tapered square hole through the middle. From the general description it is presumed that the buoy came from H. M. S. Condor, having drifted about the Pacific for the past few years.

ARRIVAL OF THE TEES.

Whales are scarce on the west coast of Vancouver Island, or at least the number being killed are comparatively few. For some time the Orion has been greatly handicapped in her operations by rough weather, but when the Tees, which arrived here at midnight, left the Coast for Victoria the Orion got a big school of the Leviathans in Barkley Sound and was proceeding in hot pursuit after them.

The Tees had upwards of sixty passengers on her return voyage, notable among them being Lieut. Hodgson, of H. M. S. Shearwater, and Capt. Radcliffe, an army officer who had been up the Coast in quest of big game. They carried on their return as trophies of their sport several splendid specimens of elk horns. Alex. Macaulay, who has spent two or three years mining at Quatsno, was also an arrival.

THE SKAGIT.

According to news received by the steamer Tees, the American barkentine Skagit, which went ashore at Clodson last week, is breaking up rapidly. The seas are rolling over and through her. Large quantities of canned supplies are washing ashore. Mr. Logan, a fisherman at Clodson, reported that it was impossible to get aboard the wreck owing to the rough water. The Tees passed quite close on her way to Victoria, but having heard of the fate of those aboard made no attempt to do any salvage work.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The American barque Alden Besse, owned by the Japanese firm of Awaya, Koda & Co., of Japan, has been chartered to make two trips from Puget Sound to San Francisco with lumber. She will then load lumber on the Sound for Tokyo, China. The Alden Besse arrived two months and a half ago from Otaru, Japan, with a cargo of hardwood logs.

The twenty-first anniversary of the Centennial Methodist church and the Harvest Thanksgiving were fittingly celebrated yesterday. Rev. G. K. B. Adams, of the Metropolitan church, occupied the pulpit in the morning and the pastor, Rev. S. J. Thompson, preached at the evening service. The church was beautifully decorated, and special music was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Clarence B. Deaville. Both services were largely attended, and the anniversary was in every way a success. In connection with the festival Rev. G. K. B. Adams will, on Wednesday evening, deliver his popular lecture, "Grit and Gilt." The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock.

Cecil Paget Ford and his bride have returned to the city after a honeymoon trip to the Minkins. Mr. Ford will leave shortly for Hongkong to enter the customs service in that city.

Geo. R. Raymond, of Vernon, and his daughter, are at the Driford. Mr. Raymond is well known on the Coast. He formerly conducted the Wilson House in Nanaimo, and was also the hotel business in Vancouver for one time.

Capt. Clive Phillips-Wolley and wife are at the Balmoral.

The Reliable Silk House of British Columbia

A Most Notable Exhibition in Silk

We are not so anxious for you to buy as for you to see our silks. We want you to realize that when you wish a certain color—a certain grade of silk—we have it; and we do. That when you desire something unique and quite extraordinary, that we have not only half a dozen, but hosts of exclusive lines not to be seen elsewhere.

This is not a sale of silk, although most people would think so by a comparison of prices. The exhibition is only JUST LIKE ONE, as only absolutely standard silks are handled at these figures.

So, if with your mind's eye scanning your horizon you can see the most distant need of silk—for waist, for dress, for coat, for petticoat or lining your best and most provident buying will be right NOW.

We are reaping the returns due to the stand we have always maintained of invariably securing the very best blacks—Most ladies are buying their black silks from us, for aside from the reputation our stock has won for itself, our price reasons mean much.

A choice programme of selected sacred music has been prepared for the organ recital to be given at St. John's church next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when the organist, G. Jennings Burnett, will be assisted by Mrs. Hirschman, the Misses Lugin, F. Waddington and the choir.

Messrs. Hutchison Bros., who are installing the "new" telephone system whereby constables on duty will be able to keep in touch with the station, expect to finish the work by the end of the week. Nine boxes, situated in convenient places about the city, will enable patrolmen to communicate with headquarters, where a tape machine will record the number of the beat and a gong will draw the attention of the officer in charge, who will initiate the tape and enter the time. This system of automatic reporting will be of great value to the police, who, from headquarters, will practically have a knowledge of the way the men are working all over the city.

All preparations are complete for the Hallowe'en concert to be given to-night under the auspices of the First Presbyterian church choir. Every member on the programme will be sought, and the array of talent secured for the occasion, the affair should go down in the musical history of Victoria as a great success. Miss McCosh, the talented violinist, arrived on Saturday evening from Ashcroft, and will prove a most attractive feature. Doors will open at 7.30 p.m., and the concert starts sharp at 8. Starting promptly on Sunday evening, a feature of J. G. Brown's concerts, and this will be no exception to the rule. Those intending to be present should go early. Reserved seats are obtainable at Cochrane's drug store.

The contract has been awarded by Pither & Leiser for their new business block on the corner of Wharf and Fort streets, where the excavation is now in progress. The contract has been given to Gribble, Skene & Co., and approaches $50,000. Work will commence at once on the new building which has been described at length in the Times. It will be six storeys, with a basement, and will be constructed of stone and brick, making an imposing structure, about 216 feet by 30.

News has been received of the death on October 17th at Cape Scott of William, the adopted son of C. B. Christie, teacher of the public school at that point. The deceased was 12 years of age. His death was the result of blood poisoning, which followed a slight injury to his foot. After ten days of great suffering, during which time all was done for his that could be, he passed away. The funeral took place on October 19th. There were many floral offerings on the occasion.

An entertainment of rather a unique character will be given by the Metropolitan Epworth League at the home of Thos. Luscombe, 117 Cook street, to-morrow evening, commencing at 7 o'clock. An old-fashioned New England dinner will be served by a number of pretty Hallowe'en fables, while attending wards will also be in evidence. There will be weird and fantastic decorations, and a long and interesting semi-Hallowe'en programme will be rendered. The entertainment is for the public, who are cordially invited.

MR. PEIRSON DOES HIS DUTY.

To the Editor:—Permit me to ask you to correct an error of your reporter in his running of a report passing through his hands relative to the Trestling-day meeting. It seems to me almost unpardonable when quotations are mutilated, especially such an one as that of Nelson's historic signal, the correct reading of which is "England expects that every man will do his duty," and is thus a command of perpetual significance—no limitation to "this day" or any other day.

THE HOUSE WITH THE GREEN SHUTTERS

BY GEORGE DOUGLAS.

And so, gradually, his dwelling had come to be a passion of Goulay's life. It was a by-word in the place that if ever his ghost was seen, it would be haunting the House with the Green Shutters. Deacon Allard, trying to make a phrase with him, once quoted the saying in his presence. "Likely enough!" said Goulay. "It's only reasonable I should prefer my own house to my grave in the graveyard!" Both in appearance and position the house was a worthy counterpart of its owner. It was a substantial two-story dwelling, planted firm and gawey on a little natural terrace that projected a considerable distance into the square. At the foot of the steep, little bank shelving to the terrace ran a stone wall, of no great height, and the iron railings it upheld were no higher than the eaves within. Thus the whole house was bare to the view from the ground up, nothing in front to screen its admirable qualities. From each corner, behind, flanking walls, went out to the right and left, and the yard and the granaries. In front of these walls the dwelling seemed to thrust itself out for notice. It took the eye of a stranger the moment he entered the square. "Whose place is that?" was his natural question. A house that challenges regard in that way should have a gallant bravery in its look; if its aspect be mean, its attitude servile, its position but direct the eye to its infirmities. There is something pathetic about a tall, cold, barn-like house set high upon a brae; it cannot hide its naked shame; it thrusts its ugliness dumbly on your notice, a manifest blotch upon the world, a place for the winds to whistle round. But Goulay's house was worthy its commanding station. A little door and blunt in the outlines like Goulay himself, it drew and satisfied your eye as he did.

And its position, "cocked up there on the brae," made it the theme of constant remark to men because of the tyrant who owned it, and to women because of the poor woman who mismanaged its affairs. "Dear, I don't understand that Goulay, as they call him, has an ill-temper," said the gossip gathered at the pump, with their big bare arms akimbo; "whatever led him to marry that discolored of a woman clean beats me! I never could make head nor tail of it." As for the men, they twined every item about Goulay and his domicile into fresh matter of assessment. "What's the news?" asked one, returning from a long absence to whom the smith, after smoking in silence for five minutes, said, "Goulay has got new rones!" "Ha-aye, man, Goulay has got new rones!" buzzed the visitor, and then their eyes, diminished in number, twinkled at each other from out their ruddy wrinkles, as if it had voluted between them. In short, the House with the Green Shutters was on every tongue and with a scowl in the voice if possible.

CHAPTER IV.

Goulay went swiftly to the kitchen from the inner yard. He had stood so long in silence on the step, and his coming was so noiseless, that he surprised a long thin trollop of a woman, with a long thin scraggy neck, seated by the slatternly table, and busy with a frowny paper-covered volume, over which her head was bent in latent perusal.

"At your novels?" said he. "Aye, woman; will it be a good story?" She rose in a nervous flutter when she saw him; she needlessly shrill in her defence, because she was angry at detection.

"Ah, well!" she cried, in weary petulance, "it's an unco thing if a body's not to have a moment's rest after such a morning's darg! I just sat down to the book for a little, till John should come till his breakfast!"

"God aye!" he went on, "you're making a nice job of him. He'll be a credit to the House. Oh, it's right, no doubt, that you should neglect your work till he consents to rise."

Of something better, he made the marks of his dour character. He had worked them up as part of his personality, and his pride of personality was such that he would never consent to change them. Hence the burly and gawey man was prim as an angel, mild with regard to his belongings. Yet his wife was continually infringing the order on which he set his heart. If he went forward to the big clock to look for his hammer, it was sure to be gone—the two bright nails staring at him vacantly. "Oh, she would say, in weary complaint, 'I just took it to break a when coals';—and he would find it in the coal-hole, greasy and grimy finger-marks engraved on the smooth and clean. Innumerable her offences of the kind. Independent of these, the sight of her general incompetence filled him with a seething rage, which found vent not in lengthy tirades but the smooth venom of his tongue.

Let him keep the outside of the House never so spick and span, inside was awry with her untidiness. She was unworthy of the House with the Green Shutters—that was the gist of it. Every time he set eyes on the poor trollop, the fresh perception of her incompetence which the sudden sight of her flashed, as she traileed aimlessly about, seemed to fatten his rage and give a coarser bite to his tongue.

Mrs. Goulay had only four people to look after, her husband, her two children, and Jack Gilmour, the errand man. And the wife of Dr. Gilmour, Webster, who had to go chasing because she was the wife of Dr. Webster, came in every day, and all day long, to help her with the work. Yet the house was always in confusion. Mrs. Goulay had asked for another servant, but Goulay would not allow that. "One's enough," said he, and what he once laid down, he never went back on. Mrs. Goulay had to make do with strength either of mind or body, she let things drift and took refuge in reading silly fiction.

As Goulay shoved his feet into his boots, and stamped to make them easy, he glowered at the kitchen from under his heavy brows with a huge disgust. The table was littered with unwashed dishes, and on the corner of it next him was a great black slop-py ring, showing where a wet saucer had been laid upon the bare board. The sun streamed through the window in yellow heat right on to a pat of melting butter. There was a basin of dirty water beneath the table, with the dishcloth slopping over on the ground.

"It's a tidy house," said he, "and you and your children range! It was that that did it! The masons could have redd out the fireplace to make room for the fire in the afternoon before it comes home. They could have done it, but they wouldn't hear of it—oh, no—ye bude to have the whole place gutted out yesterday. I had to boil everything on the parlor fire this morning—no wonder it's a little toasty!"

The old fashioned kitchen grate had been removed and the jambs had been widened on each side of the fireplace; it yawned, empty and cold. A little rubble of mortar, newly dried, lay about the bottom of the square recess. The sight of the crude and confounding scraps of dropped lime in the gaping place where warmth should have been, increased the discomfort of the kitchen.

"Oh, that's it!" said Goulay. "I see! It was want of the fireplace that kept ye from washing the dishes that we used yesterday. That was terrible! However, ye'll have plenty of boiling water when I put in the grand new range for ye; there'll be no more of the parish! We'll maybe have a clean house than."

ing made his affection of contempt the easier. A man can never guess at a thing which he really understands. Goulay, understanding nothing, was able to sneer at everything. "Hah! I don't understand that; it's damned nonsense!"—that was his attitude to life. If "that" had been an utterance of Shakespeare or Napoleon it would have made no difference to John Goulay. It would have been damned nonsense just the same. And he would have told them so, if he had met them. The man had made dogged scorn a principle of life to maintain himself, at the height which his courage warranted. His thickness of wit was never a bar to the success of his irony. For the irony of the ignorant Scot is rarely the outcome of intellectual qualities. It depends on a falsetto voice and the use of a recognized number of catch-words. "Dee-ee-ar me, dee-ee-ar me!" "Just so-a, just so-a!" "Im-phm!" "D'ye tell me that?" "Wonderful, wonderful!" "Ah, well, may-ay-be, may-ay-be," these he words of potent Long practice had made Goulay an adept in their use. He never spoke to those he despised or disliked, without "the birr." Not that he was voluble of speech; he was not clever enough for lengthy abuse. He said little and his voice was low, but every word was a stab. And the hard, clean lips were a stiff. Often his silence was more withering than any utterance. It struck like a black frost.

In those early days, to be sure, Goulay had less occasion for the use of his crude but potent irony, since the sense of his material well-being warmed him, and made him less bitter to the world. To the substantial farmers and petty squires around him he was civil, even hearty, in his manner—unless they offended him. For they belonged to the close corporation of "blen-men," and his familiarity with them was a proof to the world of his greatness. Others, again, were far too far beneath him, already for him to "dow" them. He reserved his gibes for his immediate foes, the assertive bodies his rivals in the town—and for his wife, who was a constant eyecore. As for her, he had baited the poor woman so long that it had become a habit; he never spoke to her without a sneer. "Aye, where have ye been straggling to?" he would draw, and if she answered meekly, "I was taking a dander to the Inn-ow-er-by," "The Inn!" he would take her up; "ye had a heap to do to gang there; your Bible would fly better on a bonny Sabbath afternoon!" Or it might be: "What's that ye're burying your nose in now?" and if she faltered, "It's the Bible," "Oh!" he would laugh, "ye're turning gold in your hand! Weel, I'm no saying but it's time."

"Where's Janet?" he demanded, stamping his boots once more, now he had them laced. "Eh?" said his wife vaguely, turning her eyes from the window. "What?" "Ye're not turning deaf, I hope. I was asking ye where Janet was." "I sent her down to Scott's for a can of milk," she answered him wearily. "No doubt ye had to send her," said he. "What ails the lamb that ye couldn't send her?"

"Oh, she was about when I wanted the milk, and she volunteered to gang. Man, it seems I never do a thing to please ye! What harm will it do her to run for a drop milk?" "Nan," he said gravely, "noan. And it's right, no doubt, that her brother should still be a bed—oh, it's right that he should get the privilege—seeing he's the eldest!"

Mrs. Goulay was what the Scotch call "browned" on her boy. In spite of her slack grasp on life—perhaps, because of it—she clung with a tenacious fondness to him. He was all she had, for Janet was a thoughtless thing, too like her mother for her mother to like her. And Goulay had discovered that it was one way of getting at his wife to be hard upon her. He had found, in his desire to nag thing she loved, in his desire to nag her and annoy her, that her brother should still be a bed—oh, it's right that he should get the privilege—seeing he's the eldest!

An old country minister who invited his flock once a year to supper in the school-room entrusted his "handy-man" with the delivery of the invocation cards. A day or two before the function his reverence found him sitting by the roadside in an advanced state of hilarity and oblivious to all earthly concerns. "Good gracious, Jenkin! what does this mean? How did you get into this shocking state?"

"It's all along of" ye cards, sir. I takes 'em and that 'un asks me to take a nip, and so I gets like this."

"Why, this is terrible! Are there no temperance people in the parish?"

"Ye cards by post."

THE WORLD OF WORDS.

The world of words and its explorers was the interesting theme on which Dr. J. A. H. Murray, Oxford, lectured in Hawick. Dr. Murray said that no question had been offered; asked him by the numerous visitors to his scriptorium, as they gazed with wonder at the five millions of quotations arranged in alphabetical order in the pigeon holes and shelves, than "How many words are there in the English language?" To this he was obliged to reply, as a Scotsman was often said to do, by asking two questions. First, what did they mean by a word? And secondly, what did they mean by the English language? For until these two terms were defined, the question admitted of no more exact answer than to ask a mathematician how many X's there were in Y, when both X and Y were unknown quantities. The question, "What is a word?" was very simple, but when they proceeded to give a definition, they discovered the difficulty, and when they came practically to apply the definition to specific cases the difficulties confounded them. They agreed that "way" was a word and that "high" was a word, but what about highway. Was it one or two words? On the answer depended very largely the number of words in the English language.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear. It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning. It is safer, too.

Shilo's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shilo's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. On the market, it is the only one that will buy no other. — L. E. Lyle, Nanaimo, B. C."

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that good? 25c is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.

New Coiffures and Ornaments

A wee bird in a nest of fluff.

Along series of puffs.

That is effective.

HAIR DRESSING has come to include the proper placing of hair ornaments, in addition to its usual meaning. For so popular has the wearing of some pretty bit in the hair become, that the woman who goes to dinner or dance without it feels as though she is missing a touch to her costume had been omitted.

These ornaments vary widely, from a smart bow of ribbon, or a flower, to elaborately jeweled things. The quaint wreath of flowers and the ribbon fillet are variations of the same idea, and one that is particularly attractive to a young face.

Great bows of soft ribbon—that delicate kind that is no more like the usual ribbon than the gold and silver tissues are to gold and silver braids—are set in front, slightly to the left, of a high coiffure. And butterflies are allowed to flutter everywhere; at the top of a high comb, at the base of a jeweled aigrette, or just the butterfly itself, caught in the hair.

It's the fault of the new coiffure, which, after all, though it has many versions, isn't new at all, is simply last year's enlarged a little, and added to by little curls—finger-puffs they are called—which get tucked in wherever there is a break in the lines, or wherever the space between the head and the new big hat seems just a trifle exaggerated.

Besides this coiffure, the revival of period styles in the dress world has brought about a revival of the old coiffures, adapted and modified, even more than are the dresses themselves, to suit present-day types. The style made famous through a famous portrait, of a bunch of curls gathered up on top of the head, and apparently held in place by a band of ribbon, is back again. Only in this new version the hair is waved and piled high, and the curls made as flat as possible, and a bunch of little curls deftly pinned in so that they seem like the curls of the hair.

The wreath beloved of the Princess de Lamballe has come back, along with the hat crown so characteristic of her that it bears her name. For a young girl, a low coiffure is prettiest of all, and when a bunch of curls is tucked in under the low mass of hair, somewhat on the principle of the Empire coiffure, and a rose or two pinned there, to droop against the throat, the effect is almost dramatic in its girlish charm.

Grapes and the clusters of berries in soft, dull colors are being used to dress a simple coiffure effectively, which is perhaps the most "different" thing done in hair ornament. But then, fruit has come back into favor for decorative purposes; some interesting hats are trimmed with it, and designs of grapes are found upon some of the prettiest printed stuffs where a year ago you found only roses and carnations.

Gold and silver find their way on to some of the most effective new hair ornaments—real gold and silver ornaments—real gold and silver ornaments, or bows made of that soft gold tissue that only glints in certain lights. Velvet ribbon is used, too, although the softer ribbons, those with less body to them—are more easily made into becoming ornaments and more easily kept in order.

A good supply of such little adjuncts and fingers will train to adapt puffs and little curls make a world of difference in your evening costumes. For, while the ornaments may be as costly as you please or can afford, they are not necessarily so, and the girl who has a few changes in dresses can achieve many differences in effect by their aid.

of ugly little scars, or of an enlargement of the openings, which immediately fill up again, each time increasing in size, and becoming more malignant in appearance.

Blackheads may not only be removed without leaving any scar, but, once rid of them, you need never be troubled with them again if you follow carefully the directions given here.

For two or three weeks, until the skin is thoroughly softened, apply one of the creams or skin foods, formulas for which are given in this department. Make this application at night, after scrubbing the face well with the flesh brush, using a pure, hygienic soap and hot water. Be sure to rinse the soap well out of the face and to dry the skin thoroughly before applying the cream or skin food.

At the end of two or three weeks of this treatment the blackheads may be forced out by pressure of the two thumbs. If a moderate pressure will not eject it, make no more heroic attempt, but try a lotion or the green-snap treatment, which rarely, if ever, fails.

Lotion for Blackheads.

Pure brandy, 2 ounces; cologne, 1 ounce; liquor of potassa, 1 ounce.

Apply at night, after washing the face thoroughly with soap and water.

Blackheads.

Tincture of green soap, 1 ounce; distilled water, 2 ounces. Let this mixture stand in only a few moments, then wash off with hot water.

If the green soap irritates the skin, as it sometimes does, use it every other day. Apply a cold cream.

Green soap may be purchased at any good drug store. It is not a regular "cake soap," but it is about the consistency of custard.

To use a face brush properly, immerse it in warm water, rub the soap on it until you get a good lather, scrub the face for a moment or two, then rinse thoroughly with clean water.

At night just before going to bed, it may make the face a little tender for the first day or two, but not longer.

Any reputable establishment in a large city should be able to supply the camel-hair face brush at a cost of about $1. The correct brush is about five inches long and oval in shape. It has white bristles, soft enough not to scratch the delicate surface of the skin, and a plain unvarnished back.

Abstain from all rich food, pork in every form, hot breads and sweets. Don't drink either coffee or tea, and live principally upon fresh or stewed fruit and the green vegetables. Take plenty of outdoor exercise.

Prescription Repeated

In your department (one in which my family is always much interested) there appeared recently a remedy for "brown spots." We cut this out, intending to take to drugist. Unfortunately, it got mislaid or lost. I remember what was said in regard to using the "cream glycerine," so merely want the prescription. Thanking you in advance, I have mislaid it.

I think this is the formula to which you refer:

Whitening Paste for Freckles and Brown Spots.

Salicylic acid, 60 grains; bay rum, 4 ounces.

Late. Apply night and morning with a soft cloth or sponge. This lotion soon produces a slight roughness of the skin, which should be subdued by the use of glycerine of starch.

To Darken the Hair

Will you please send me the formula for darkening the hair, in which walnut skins are used? I have mislaid it. I am very grateful to you if you will help me. My health is good.

There is but one way of getting rid of blackheads, and that is by forcing them out of the pores. But in pressing them out before the skin is properly softened and prepared for their ejection, you should be exceedingly careful not to rupture the delicate tissue—the cause

Parted and pulled.

How to Wash Your Face

Will you kindly explain how I should wash my face, which gets rough very easily? Please tell me which cream is the best for making my skin nice and soft and white.

The pores on my nose look as if they were filled with dirt and my skin seems to be getting coarser.

The roughness of your skin may be caused by some internal disturbance. Should this be the case, no amount of local treatment can effect a cure. The treatment must be constitutional.

Wash your face thoroughly with soap and water, or, if the soap seems to dry it out, with almond milk and water. Use warm water for bathing, following after the face is rinsed (and the rinsing must be as thorough as the bathing), with cold water.

Dry carefully, using soft towels that will absorb the moisture rather than the rough ones, whose friction may be too violent for your skin. After the last bathing at night, apply this:

Lotion for Dry Skin.

Lanolin, 1 ounce; almond oil, 1 ounce; simple tincture of benzoin, 1 ounce.

Mix the above ingredients thoroughly together and rub into the skin before going to bed.

I think that the cucumber cream is better than the honey and almond in your case. Here is the formula:

Cucumber Lotion, or Cream.

Expressed juice of cucumbers, 4 pint; deodorized alcohol, 1 1/2 ounces; sweet almond oil, 1/2 ounces; shaving cream, 1 dram; blanched almonds, 1/2 dram; very white, softening and cleansing. Take the shaving cream and dissolve it in rose water by heating in a custard kettle. Beat the almonds in a mortar, strain through muslin and return to the mortar. Stir constantly, working in gradually the alcohol, in which the oils have already been dissolved.

For the rest, follow the directions upon the subject of blackheads given to "Pinpoint."

Retouching Necessary

I am greatly annoyed with superfluous hairs having tried everything ever advised also pulled them out with tweezers, still they come. Will you please give me a remedy that will surely remove them? I am so sensitive about them. I wish to remove them at once.

I also saw in the paper about a tonic to change gray hair. You will remember it. It was a physician's prescription. Will you kindly tell me how often to use it, and if it will keep the hair dark without using cosmetics?

Electrolysis and X-rays are the only mediums by which superfluous hair may be permanently removed, and both these treatments are very expensive.

Sometimes the growth of hair can be made sufficiently inconspicuous by using peroxide of hydrogen as a bleach. If this method fails in your case, all you can do is to keep the hair in abeyance by constant use of the pomade stone or by some other depilatory.

To Restore Natural Color of the Hair.

(A physician's prescription.)

Sugar of lead, 1 ounce; iac sulphur, 1/2 ounce; essence of bergamot, 1 ounce; alcohol, 1/2 ounce; glycerine, 1/2 ounce; tincture of camellia, 1 ounce; ammonia, 1/2 ounce.

Mix all in one pint of soft water. Apply to the roots of the hair, which must be clean.

The dye should never be applied if there is any irritation, or abrasion of the scalp.

As to the permanency of the effect, retouching usually becomes necessary as soon as new hair makes its appearance.

The Cause of Pimples

Will you kindly tell me what causes large, red pimples on my face, and how to get rid of them? A few are also on my face, but are more numerous on my face.

When they go away a red blotch is left. If the pimples are squeezed, a whitish substance comes from them. Will be very grateful to know how to rid myself of them.

The first step toward improving your complexion will be to improve your health. Pimples are the outward indication of some inward disturbances. Until this is righted, they will continue to disfigure your face. The cream for which formula is given is an excellent healing agent, but it cannot prevent the reappearance of the eruption. Usually, digestive troubles are the cause of pimples. In this case careful dieting is necessary, with plenty of fresh air and exercise.

On Care of Skin and Hair

Fossati Cream for Pimples.

Lanolin, 5 grams; sweet almond oil, 5 grams; salicylic acid, 1 gram; extract of sage, 1/2 gram; extract of violet, 1/2 gram.

Apply a very little of the cream to each pimple; wait until the pimples are cured before using the face brush, which might irritate them.

Massage and Deep Breathing

I am using Dr. Vaucaire's bust remedy, and would like to have the Vaucaire bust remedy. Will you kindly print some with directions for using it?

To make your bust firm try frequent applications of cold water, rubbing briskly afterward with a Turkish towel, making an upward and outward movement. Massage is also of great assistance in development. Massage from underneath in a series of rotary motions. Make the movements slow and gentle, as haste or heavy pressure will do harm in this region. Deep breathing and chest expanding exercises are just as necessary.

Massage Cream for the Bust.

Lanolin, 5 ounces; spermaceti, 5 ounces; mutton tallow, 5 ounces; fresh, 5 ounces; extract of sage, 1/2 ounce; extract of violet, 1/2 ounce; extract of benzoin, 1 dram; extract of Portulaca, 1 ounce; oil of rose, 20 drops. Mix as you would any cream of the sort. Rub on gently at night.

A Good Skin Food

Would you kindly send me the formula for orange-flower cream. By so doing you will greatly oblige me. E. M.

Orange-Flower Cream.

(A Skin Food.)

Oil of sweet almonds, 4 ounces; white wax, 2 ounces; glycerine, 1/2 ounce; orange-flower water, 1/2 ounce; extract of sage, 1/2 ounce; extract of violet, 1/2 ounce; extract of benzoin, 1 dram; extract of Portulaca, 1 ounce; oil of rose, 20 drops. Mix as you would any cream of the sort. Rub on gently at night.

Don't Change the Proportions

I notice you very highly recommend Dr. Vaucaire's bust developer. From what I know of it, I think it would be a good thing to use. Will you kindly tell me how often to use it, and if it will keep the hair dark without using cosmetics?

Electrolysis and X-rays are the only mediums by which superfluous hair may be permanently removed, and both these treatments are very expensive.

The dye should never be applied if there is any irritation, or abrasion of the scalp.

Scanty Eyebrows

Will you please give me a recipe for scanty eyebrow and hair? I have seen some in the paper, but not lately.

J. A. J.

Ointment for Scanty Eyebrows.

Red vasoline, 1 ounce; tincture of camellia, 1 ounce; oil of lavender, 1/2 ounce; oil of rosemary, 1/2 ounce.

Stir thoroughly. Apply to the eyebrows with a tiny toothbrush once a day until the growth is sufficiently stimulated. Then less often.

This ointment may be used for the eyebrows, also. In this case it should be very carefully applied. It will irritate the eyes, as any oil will, if it gets into them.

To improve the shape of the eyebrows, brush or gently pinch them each day in the direction in which you wish them to grow. You will soon see a decided improvement in them.

DISASTROUS FLOODS IN VALLEY OF THE SKAGIT

Three Men Drowned by Capsizing of Boat—Town of Minkler Has Been Abandoned.

Sedro-Woolley, Wash., Oct. 27.—While attempting to cross the Baker river in a rowboat, S. W. Mulkey, Simpson and Jewel lost their lives last night. A log struck the frail craft and capsized it.
The men were thrown into the river where the Baker empties into the Skagit river, and although they were men of years of experience on the river, they were unable to save themselves, as the current was so strong swimming was impossible.

The Skagit river just below this city is a mile and a half wide, and at a late hour to-day was still rising.

The Great Northern railway tracks at the Sterling bend of the river have been washed over, and the water takes only a three-foot rise to carry away the road grade.

The town of Minkler is standing in a lake, and has been abandoned. Farmers near Sterling were forced to leave their farms during the night and the damage cannot be estimated.

On Third street in this city to a point three-quarters of a mile south, the water covers the land from five to fifty feet deep.

Great Northern trains are unable to get east of Lyman on account of the floods, which have washed away or damaged the tracks. The big railroad bridge across the Baker has been washed into the river, and weeks at least will elapse before the Great Northern trains will be able to operate between this city and Rockport.

Thousands of beavers have been driven down from the mountains by the floods, and are being killed by hundreds.

Creeks Overflow Banks.

New Westminster, Oct. 27.—Inclement rains have caused all the creeks in the Chilliwack valley to flood their banks, and great damage has resulted.

Vedder creek rose many feet yesterday, and opposite the plant of the Chiliwack Lumber Company, the bank was washed out for a distance of 140 feet. Two houses and a barn were undamaged, collapsed, and fell into the river.

Elk creek went on a rampage yesterday and the rising waters disintegrated so much debris, which went roaring down the stream, that the waterworks system of Chilliwack was blocked with a tangled mass of logs.

After several hours' hard work Manager Knight and a force of men succeeding in clearing the intakes.

Cultus lake bridge and hotel were in some danger, but are now safe. The embankment was washed out and the south approach was badly damaged, and is now in a dangerous condition.

The cribbing of the Mount Baker road has been washed out in many places.
